DELHI URBAN ART COMMISSION

Anti Corruption Policy

The Delhi Urban Art Commission in the direction of good governance and with a view to curb corruption has adopted the policy of efficiency, transparency and integrity. In line with the Government's anti corruption policy it has taken the following specific steps:

Proposals referred to the Commission:

- i) Put in operation a web based proposal tracking system through which the project proponents can track progress of their proposal from date of submission to its final disposal.
- ii) The Commission considers the proposals on the basis of a set of criterion for proposal assessment which can be viewed on its website (www.duac.org)
- iii) The minutes of the decisions on the proposals considered by the Commission are uploaded on its website.
- iv) On an average the Commission takes 21-30 days in disposal of proposals which are found to be in order.
- v) The Commission meets normally twice a month.
- vi) Any Member having any conflict of interest on a specific proposal recuses himself/herself when the proposal is being considered by the Commission.
- vii) Decisions of the Commission are taken collectively.

Other Aspects:

- viii) The Commission is in the process of switching over to online referral and disposal of proposals.
- ix) Engagement of contractors and consultants are done on the basis of established guidelines of the Government.
- x) The employees of the Commission are governed by the CCS (Conduct) Rules, 1964 as amended from time to time.
- xi) All major payments are made online or through cheques only.
- xii) Interaction with members of public with the staff is discouraged.
- xiii) A public Grievance Redressal mechanism is in operation.
